

Children verses kids

Something I would like to point out in the spirit of charity is a fact that it seems many have fallen into the clutches of our worst enemies – because their goal is to destroy the Catholic faith. By that I mean falling into the trap set by the Freemasons. What is that trap? It is the very bad habit of calling children kids. If I understand things properly, there are few symbols of the Freemasons more predominant than that of the goat. The goat has so much diabolical, satanic things connected to it in the life of the Freemasons. Now what is a baby goat called if not a kid? So, it makes me concerned that more and more people use the word kid in place of children in their communications.

I checked on this website: <http://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/kid> and realized that now they formed the NEW definition that kid can sometimes mean a human being. Obviously, it is used thousands or millions of times a day throughout the world referring to human children. Nevertheless, the Scriptures, the Fathers and Doctors of the Church, and the Saints never use the word kid when they mean to speak about human children – at least I have yet to see the first time when they do that. In my opinion it is very non-Catholic to use the term kid when you are speaking of human beings. Can you please show me that scriptural verse where Jesus Christ said “unless you become as little kids?” In the 18th chapter of St. Matthew’s Gospel Jesus tells us that we must be converted and become as little children. Where do the Scriptures tell us that Jesus called a little kid and set him in the midst of them (the Apostles) to teach them the important truth that we must become as little children (not little kids) if we are going to enter into the kingdom of heaven?

No, make no mistake about it. The kid as symbolized and used by the Freemasons does not teach us humility and meekness and our dependence upon Almighty God, our heavenly Father. Their use of the kid and the goat is to me a very strong representation of all Satanic and diabolical rebellion against God. That is one reason among many why I think that every time anyone uses the term kid when they should be saying children or child means they are simply playing into the hands of some of the worst enemies of Almighty God and His Church.

Ora pro nobis! May the Divine Assistance remain always with us and may the souls of the faithful departed, through the Mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.
