Two mothers were talking about their sons. The first said, “My son is such a saint. He works hard, does not smoke, and he has not so much as looked at a woman in over two years.” The other woman said, “Well, my son is a saint himself. Not only has he not looked at a woman in over three years, but he has not touched a drop of liquor in all that time.” “My word,” the first mother said. “You must be so proud.” “I am,” the second mother replied. “And when he is paroled next month, I am going to throw him a big party.” (No wonder the son has lived in the taxpayer’s hotel for the last three years!)

A career military man who had retired as a corporal was telling the younger men how he handled officers during his years of service. “It did not matter a hoot if he was a Major General, an Admiral, or the Commander-in-Chief, I always told those guys exactly where to get off.” “Wow, you must have been something,” the admiring young soldiers remarked. What was your job in the service?” “Elevator operator in the Pentagon.”

If you have visited www.JMJsites.com in the last few days, you will know that it has been changed from an HTML website to a WordPress website. Learning new programs and rebuilding the website has been quite a project. There are over 2,000 links on the website, and I hope that all of the hyperlinks are working. However, if you find any hyperlinks that do not work, please let me know.

You can find sermons for the Fifth Sunday after Easter at <https://jmjsite.com/5th-sunday-after-easter/>. The fifth week after Easter is one of the most important weeks of the year as far as being taught the absolute necessity of prayer, and the huge amount of important information regarding prayer. I exhort you to go to that link and listen to the sermons – or read them as PDF files. Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday of next week are Rogation Days. A reminder to pray the Litany of the Saints on each of the Rogation Days – as taught by the Liturgy of the Church. May 9 is Ascension Day and a Holyday of Obligation. Here is the link for some sermons <https://jmjsite.com/ascension-thursday/>

He went up into a mountain alone to pray. And when it was evening, He was there alone. (Matthew 14:23)

He passed the whole night in the prayer of God. (Luke 6:12)

Every best gift, and every perfect gift, is from above, coming down from the Father of lights. (James 1:17)

All things whatsoever you ask when ye pray, believe that you shall receive, and they shall come unto you. (Matthew 11:24)

Seek, and you shall find. (Matthew 7:7)

My Peace I give unto you. (John 14:27)

This kind is not cast out but by prayer and fasting. (Matthew 17:20)

I came not to call the just, but sinners to penance. (Luke 5:32)

If you abide in Me, and My words abide in you, you shall ask whatever you will, and it shall be done unto you. (John 15:7)

He will do the will of them that fear Him: and He will hear their prayer. (Proverbs 144:19)

All things whatsoever you ask when ye pray believe that you shall receive, and they shall come unto you.
(Matthew 11:24)

We ought always to pray, and not to faint. (Luke 18:1)

Pray without ceasing. (1 Timothy 5:17)
